

IN OGDEN'S SOCIETY CIRCLES

Splendid Program at Meeting of Ladies' Literary Society Last Wednesday

Probably a no more interesting meeting of the Ladies' Literary club has ever been held than the meeting Wednesday of this week when Mrs. D. C. Eccles entertained the club at her home, 607 Twenty-fifth street. The club was honored at this meeting by the presence of one of Utah's best known singers, Melvin Peterson, baritone, of Salt Lake City, who delighted the ladies with three selections in which he demonstrated his remarkable range of voice and the added temperament of a true artist.

Mrs. Leroy Eccles, president of the club, presided over the meeting, and Mrs. R. B. Porter was chairman of the program. Following the regular business and reading of reports, Mr. Peterson sang "Ariso." This was followed by a solo number entitled "The Dog in His Kennel." Mr. Peterson's rendition of Allison's "The Lord Is My Light" was exceptionally pleasing. Mrs. Farnsworth, in her charming and thoroughly entertaining manner, read several selections from "Dolly's Dialogue," by Anthony Hope, and these were especially delightful to her interested listeners. She read the following:

"A Liberal Education,"
"Cordelia's Relatives,"
"Retribution,"
"A Matter of Duty,"
"An Expensive Privilege."

Instrumental selections were not forgotten in the splendidly arranged program and the club members and guests were entertained by Miss Jessie Beeson with her violin while Miss Ovedia Holther presided at the piano. "The Swan" from Saint-Saens was the title of the first number and as an encore, "Carmena Waltz" by H. Lane Wilson.

During the social hour Mrs. Eccles served a delicious and refreshing luncheon.

Mrs. J. Grant of Baker City, Oregon, Mrs. A. T. Wright and Miss Rae Middleton were guests of the afternoon.

Mrs. Ezra C. Rich will be hostess to the ladies at their next meeting, Wednesday, December 9, and prior to the regular meeting will entertain at luncheon in the Maids' and Matrons' club at 1.30 o'clock.

SERGEANT McLEOD CLAIMS A BRIDE

A military romance executed with all the strategy and skill demanded in these days of modern love and warfare has just come to light in a report from the recruiting front in Ogden of the United States military service. Sergeant George D. McLeod, general and obliging recruiting officer for this city, executed the coup very successfully and has reported the capture or captivity of Miss Zella Harvey. The stroke was effected on Thanksgiving, December 24, and was not announced, coming as a surprise to the surprised, to his friends in Ogden.

Miss Harvey is a well known young woman of Ogden, attending the Sacred Heart academy for nine years and having taught school after graduation at Carter, Wyo., the home of her parents. Her father is a prosperous resident of that town, being owner of the Mountain View, Wyo., townsite. It was while reconnoitering near Carter some five years ago that Sergeant McLeod first made the acquaintance of the Harveys and in March of this year while engaged in special service for the Ogden police department, he became better acquainted with Miss Zella Harvey. And then with gallantry characteristic of Uncle Sam's men, he pressed his attack to a successful conclusion. Sergeant and Mrs. McLeod have established their home at 2539 Grammercy avenue where they will be pleased to welcome their friends.

DAUGHTERS OF PIONEERS.

Praise Numbers in Presbyterian Church To Be Sung by Gifted Contralto Soloist

Miss Florence Jepperson has won the distinction of being the most gifted contralto soloist Utah has yet produced. Miss Jepperson was soloist for the Boston Symphony orchestra on the annual tour three years ago. Miss Jepperson will furnish the praise numbers tomorrow in the First Presbyterian church. Miss Jepperson will also render the contralto solos in the rendition of Messiah in the tabernacle on New Year's day. She will sing the following numbers at the Presbyterian church tomorrow:

Morning Worship.
"My Redeemer and My Lord" . . . Dudley Buck
"Oh Lord Most Holy" Frankie
"Oh Rest in the Lord," from the "Elijah"
"The Flag Without One Stain."
Evening Worship.
"Oh Love Divine" Nevin
"Light of the Heart" Allison
"Oh Divine Redeemer" Gounod
"The Flag Without One Stain."

Miss Marguerite Jepperson will assist in the rendition of the praise numbers.

BIRTHDAY WEDDING ANNIVERSARY AND CHRISTMAS CELEBRATED.

Forty six years of married life and also the 68th birthday anniversary of David W. Tribe were observed last Tuesday evening when the children of Mr. and Mrs. David William Tribe met at the home of their parents, 548 24th street and spent an evening of pleasure in social chat and reminiscences, singing and games. A tempting luncheon concluded the evening's entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. Tribe were presented with a token of love and esteem by the following sons and daughters: Mr. and Mrs. William D. Tribe; Mrs. Charles Tribe; (Mrs. Tribe being in California visiting her son Armond at Camp Kearny); Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Tribe; Mr. and Mrs. Heber J. Heiner; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Clark; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Tribe; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford S. Cave.

CELEBRATE THIRTY THIRD WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Chambers, 1169 Farley avenue, last Tuesday evening the thirty third anniversary of this well-known couple's wedding was fittingly celebrated, seventy-five guests including the children of Mr. and Mrs. Chambers being present.

The observance of their wedding anniversary opened with an old-fashioned supper, prepared and served by the daughters. The table was suggestive of the Christmas day, attractive baskets of holly and red berries being placed at each end while in the center was a French basket of red roses and carnations in ivory and white. A large Christmas bell was suspended from the central chandelier and radiating from this to the four corners of the table were streamers of red ribbon.

Members of the Chambers family presented their mother with a dainty silver tea set while Mr. Chambers was given a handsome gold watch. Many other lovely gifts were tendered the honored couple by their hosts of friends.

During the evening following dinner, musical selections were enjoyed, the following guests giving a number of vocal and instrumental solos: Mrs. Thomas Clark, Miss Ida Craven and Miss Gertrude Fitzgerald were hostesses at their home and one of the most delightful of Christmas parties was enjoyed.

The parlor was effective with a large Christmas tree beautifully decorated and lighted while about the rooms were lighted candles in pretty sticks. A cheery fire burned in the fireplace and this, with the flicker of the candles, was the only light. The teachers enjoyed making candy and popped corn over the coals in the fireplace.

In the dining room a perfectly prepared luncheon was served, cafeteria style. On each guests' tray was a check on which was written the "charge" for the luncheon. Some very amusing "stunts" were demanded as remuneration.

Altogether the affair was a delightful and novel one and thoroughly enjoyed by each guest.
